

Maryann Davies

Maryann Davies is a third year D.O. and M.P.H. dual degree student at A.T. Still University, School of Osteopathic Medicine in Arizona (ATSU-SOMA). She is interested in public health advocacy for underserved populations and humanistic, patient-centered care in medicine. During her first two years of medical school, Maryann served as a Student Ambassador and Co-Chair for the Latino Medical Student Association Chapter at ATSU-SOMA. She is a member of the national Gold Humanism Honors Society and Sigma Sigma Phi osteopathic service fraternity. She aspires to continue promoting wellness through cultural competency, education, and mentorship throughout her medical career.